

NEIGHBORHOOD EXTRA

COURTESY PHOTO

Pictured from left: Syd Widga, president Lincoln South Rotary Club; Delani Lyle, development management for Center for People; Lindsay Licht, strengths coach and work readiness manager for Center for People; Katie Ricenbaw, director of education for Center for People; Macala Carter, executive director for Center for People; Audrey Richert, Lincoln South Rotary Club project manager.

Lincoln South Rotary awards grant to Center for People

Members of Lincoln South Rotary Club awarded a $5,000 grant to the Center for People, which facilitates free English classes for new Americans.

The grant goes toward a smart-board and accessories. The new technology is in place and being used daily at the Center for People.

"The new technology benefits people striving to learn English and clients who want to gain skills to remove barriers to employment, which in turn will grow our local workforce and economy," said Audrey Richert, Lincoln South Rotary Club project manager.

To learn about Lincoln South Rotary Club, visit www.lincoln-southrotary.org.